My grandpa likes to tell me stories about when he was young. We live in the city, but when my grandpa was a boy, he lived on a farm high up in the mountains.

When we go shopping, we get into the car and drive to the supermarket. We do the shopping, put it in the car and drive home.

When my grandpa went shopping, he walked down the mountain, then he bought things in a small shop in a village, he put them in his rucksack and then he walked back to the farm again. He didn't buy very much, just the things which they didn't have at the farm, such as flour, oil and salt.

On the farm they baked their own bread. One day my grandpa took me to a museum. There they showed us how to bake bread. My grandpa said, 'That's how we baked our bread on the farm.' We tasted the bread in the museum and it was really nice.

Last winter I went skiing with my family and we stayed in a hut in the mountains. For the first few days, there was a lot of sun and we skied, but then it snowed for three days. It was too dangerous to leave the hut and soon we had no more bread. Then I remembered my grandpa. 'I can bake bread,' I said to my parents, but they didn't believe me.

We had water, oil and salt, and luckily we found some flour in a cupboard. I remembered what my grandpa told me and baked some bread. It wasn't really very nice, but everybody liked it because they were hungry.

Hide and sleep

Last week Mum and Dad took us to the furniture shop. They wanted to buy a new sofa because our old one wasn't very comfortable. My brother and I weren't very happy because we don't really like shopping, but then Mum said that Grandpa wanted to come too. We liked that idea because Grandpa is cool!

The shop was really big. Mum and Dad left us with Grandpa and went to look at furniture. Grandpa had a brilliant idea. 'This shop is very big,' he said, 'so let's have a game of hide and seek.' We were really excited because there were so many places to hide. My brother hid first and after ten minutes

I found him behind a cupboard. Then it was my turn, but Grandpa found me very quickly. Finally it was Grandpa's turn. We closed our eyes and counted to 100. 'Coming!' we shouted. We looked and we looked, but we couldn't find Grandpa anywhere. After half an hour, Mum and Dad came back. 'Where's Grandpa?' they asked. Now all the family started to look for him. When we were in the part of the shop where they had beds, we heard a funny noise. 'Shhh!' said Dad. 'Someone is snoring.' We looked across the shop and there on the most comfortable bed was Grandpa – asleep!

Harry: You mean they can't live without eating meat?

Mia: Exactly. Lions can't live without meat. They die.

Harry: Hmm, I think I'm beginning to understand.

Gan went to the lake. He saw an old man fishing, but Gan didn't speak to him. He put some bread on the hook and started fishing. After two hours, he didn't have any fish and he decided to go home. On his way, he saw that the old man had five fish and Gan was angry.

The next day, Li asked Gan, 'Are you going fishing today?'

A hot day in the mountains

Last July my parents, my brother and I were on holiday in the mountains.

One day when Dad was driving on a mountain road, he suddenly stopped the car. 'Look!' he shouted. We all looked but no-one could see anything. 'I saw an alien, I'm sure. It went over that hill.'

We all got out of the car and started to walk up the hill. When we got to the top, we all saw the alien walk behind some rocks. We ran to the rocks but when we got there, it wasn't there. We walked back to the road, but now our car wasn't there. We went to the nearest village and told our story to a police officer. When we finished, he told us that he had some good news. 'I think we've got your car,' he said. He took us to the back of the police station and there was our car. We were very happy. 'And the alien?' asked Dad. 'Do you believe us?'

'I think we've got your alien too. Come with me,' said the police officer. We went inside and in the police station we saw two men. One of them was wearing an alien costume. Saturn is famous for its thousands of beautiful rings, which are ice. We know a lot about Saturn because in 1979 a spacecraft, Pioneer 11, visited Saturn and took lots of photos. Saturn has got about 60 moons. This is more than any other planet.
